

Priority One

Restore Fiscal Responsibility & Accountability

"Every successful city begins with responsible stewardship of taxpayer dollars."

Why This Matters

Everything begins with responsible financial stewardship.

Without sound finances, West Covina cannot adequately support public safety, repair roads, improve parks, modernize infrastructure, maintain city facilities, or provide the quality services our residents deserve.

For years, residents have watched difficult financial decisions limit what our City has been able to accomplish. Deferred maintenance, aging infrastructure, growing financial obligations, and competing priorities have made it increasingly difficult to invest in the services our community expects and deserves.

Financial responsibility is not simply about balancing numbers on a spreadsheet.

It is about earning the public's trust.

Every dollar collected from taxpayers represents countless hours that families, seniors, and business owners worked to earn. Those dollars should be treated with the same care and responsibility that every family uses when managing its own household budget.

As someone who has owned and operated a small business for nearly fifteen years and managed budgets throughout my professional career, I understand that every financial decision involves priorities. Sometimes difficult decisions must be made, but they should always be based on facts, transparency, and the long-term interests of our community, not short-term politics.

If we restore our financial foundation, we will be able to invest in safer neighborhoods, stronger parks, improved infrastructure, vibrant business districts, and better services for every resident.

Financial responsibility is not one priority among many.

It is the foundation that makes every other priority possible.

As Your Councilmember, I Will Advocate For:

Responsible Financial Management

- Developing balanced and sustainable budgets that protect the City's long-term financial health.
- Creating multi-year financial plans that anticipate future needs instead of reacting to crises.
- Building adequate financial reserves to prepare for economic downturns and emergencies.
- Making long-term decisions that strengthen—not weaken—the City's financial future.

Transparency & Accountability

- Presenting budgets in a clear and understandable format that residents can easily follow.
- Expanding public access to financial information through user-friendly online dashboards.

- Supporting independent financial oversight and regular performance reviews.
- Ensuring residents understand how and why their tax dollars are being spent.

Performance-Based Government

- Measuring City programs based on results, efficiency, and community impact.
- Conducting regular evaluations to determine whether programs continue providing value.
- Eliminating waste while protecting services that residents rely upon.
- Encouraging innovation and continuous improvement throughout City government.

Smart Procurement & Responsible Spending

- Promoting competitive procurement practices that maximize taxpayer value.
- Reviewing contracts carefully before taxpayer dollars are committed.
- Seeking cost-saving opportunities without sacrificing service quality.
- Encouraging fiscal discipline throughout every City department.

Long-Term Planning

- Prioritizing infrastructure investments using engineering data and objective analysis.
- Planning today for tomorrow's maintenance needs rather than waiting until repairs become more expensive.
- Investing strategically in projects that provide long-term value for residents.

- Making financial decisions that benefit both current residents and future generations.
-

My Commitment

Fiscal responsibility is not about saying "no."

It is about making thoughtful decisions that allow us to say "yes" to the things that matter most.

It means investing wisely in public safety.

Repairing our roads before they fail.

Maintaining beautiful parks.

Supporting local businesses.

Providing outstanding services.

Preparing for future challenges.

Above all, it means respecting every taxpayer who places their trust in City Hall.

Every family must live within its budget.

City government should do the same.

Looking Ahead

A financially strong city creates opportunities.

It gives us the ability to hire additional police officers, improve our parks, invest in our infrastructure, strengthen our local economy, and provide the services residents deserve.

Fiscal responsibility is not the destination.

It is the starting point.

It is the foundation upon which we will build a safer, stronger, and more prosperous West Covina.